

CHANGE in CONTENT COVERAGE Effective April 2006

Science Online: The digital collection of Science, content published between 1997 & Today

Science Classic: The digital collection of Science, content published between 1880 & 1996.

In the past, a subscription to Science Online included full-text access to articles published from Volume #274, Issue 5284, October 4, 1996 to the present. In light of the handful of issues this represented for 1996, the decision was made to have Science Online start with Volume #275, Issue 5296, January 3, 1997 and have Science Classic include the entire year of 1996. This allows a clean calendar year break between the two online resources.

Consequently, a small number of issues from 1996 that were previously included in Science Online is no longer included and now requires a separate subscription to Science Classic the newly digitized backfile. However, in return, AAAS will make all abstracts from the Science Classic archive freely available. This typically includes abstracts going back to the 1950's when they first became available.
